The ring dagger, with its characteristic ring shaped pommel, has long been regarded as something of an underdog among Western martial artists. It does, however have some distinct and premium advantages that are unsurpassed by any other knife.

The new Cold Steel ring dagger, we call the Battle Ring™ is distinguished by a short, broad, mirror polished blade with twin edges. Its economical point resembles a shark's tooth, both in looks and flesh rending capabilities. Yet, it's our Battle Ring's Grivory handle and ring that are perhaps its most appealing features. They've been precisely shaped and contoured to comfortably accommodate most hands, providing a perch to facilitate the eight different grip options shown here. Plus, the ring is strong enough to be used as a "skull crusher" or for iron knuckle blows.

Includes Secure-Ex sheath and chain.
