There are an awful lot of outdoorsman out there who only want two things from their folding knife and that's the ability to field dress and skin game, and still be able to perform camp chores. That's why we are now offering our iconic Voyager series with 4" and 5 1/2" long drop point blade shapes, as this blade style has proved to highly versatile and is an ideal shape for a hunting knife. One of the things I like in particular about our new drop points is their cutting edges are continuously curved and offer a lot of belly (curve near the tip) that makes it a breeze to pull the hide off just about any size game.
