The Micro Flight Thrower is slim, trim, and wonderfully compact. But don't let its small size and economical price fool you, as it packs an awfully big punch for very little money. Made from super-tough "spring steel", it's sure to provide years of throwing fun. And, as an added bonus, its broad spear point blade, and integral guard and ergonomically designed handle allow it to be easily and inexpensively converted into a very effective boot knife.
