Our classy walking sticks are just at home at the opera as they are on a stroll through the urban jungle. The City Stick's glossy black shafts are made out of eleven layers of fiberglass which, in impact tests, proved to be unbreakable. They're all topped with a removable head that can be easily engraved or modified to suit your tastes. At the base is a thick rubber ferrule for excellent traction.

This City Stick is sure to grab attention wherever you take it. Styled after earlier walking sticks, its finely chiseled skull-head motif is meant to be confrontational and is sure to provoke conversation among those who stop to admire it. And, like all Cold Steel products, it can be relied upon in a pinch. Cast out of thick-walled stainless steel utilizing the lost wax process, it will last a lifetime and serve you well in all of life's adventures.
