This year, we are happy to introduce a new Finnish styled blade we call the Finn Wolf. It has a slightly more tactical, aggressive quality. Like our Finn Bear, it's modestly priced. It features a slightly thicker 3mm, 4116 Krupp stainless blade that provides a stiffer spine to support the blade's narrow profile and sharp, slightly 'clipped' point. These attributes, combined with its thin, keen hollow ground edge make it ideal for field dressing, skinning, utility chores and even the rigors of survival or combat use.

The Finn Wolf's handle is shaped and contoured for comfort and security. Its sweeping curves give it an attractive visual appeal and provide a steady grip for the hand. It can be used edge up or down and in both forward or reverse grips and offers terrific dexterity and comfort in any position you can imagine.

The Finn Wolf comes with a traditional pouch style black Cordura sheath. Worn on the belt or tucked into a pack, it's ready for your next adventure.
