Gerber Multi-Plier 400 Compact Fisherman

In an undeniable show of respect for the determined anglers everywhere, Gerber developed a unique version of the Multi-Plier 400 series: The Compact Fisherman. A come-what-may tool that's well suited to the rigors of getting your hook wet.

Engineered in all-weather stainless steel, the Compact Fisherman is distinguished by its elongated needlenose pliers. Now it doesn't take a professional fishing guide to appreciate the wisdom of this plier configuration when it comes to extracting hooks. Nimble but strong, these pliers make it exceptionally easy to remove hooks from fish you plan to release. A carbide file is built-in, too, which features a hook groove/sharpener. And no matter which tool you're using, our patented Saf.T.Plus locking system lets you work safely, even in the wettest conditions.

Pliers Type: Elongated Needlenose
