Taking its cue from Leatherman's popular folding knife series, the Klamath meets the needs of big-game hunters who know a quality folding knife is a true necessity. Like the fixed blade version the Klamath offers a superior S30V blade in the perfect size for field dressing and other hunting or camping chores. Easy to clean and sharpen, a gut hook with a large cutting area remains hidden until needed, sliding out easily from the handle. Klamath employs Leatherman's strong lockback locking mechanism and features a diamond-coated sharpening rod conveniently housed in a protective handle tube.
