The M48 Double-Headed War Hammer is what you want to be holding in your hands when things get ugly! It has a vicious 6 1/2", 2Cr13 stainless steel double-head with a black oxide coating and a satin finish on each of its faces. The hammer head features a skull crusher at its top and five penetrating points on each of its square-shaped heads. The handle is constructed of an almost indestructible injection molded nylon with a fiber fill and has a lanyard hole. Special grooves are designed into the handle specifically so that paracord can be wrapped around it with relative ease. The 17" overall, double-headed war hammer has a tough TPR cover to protect the head and removable nylon belt loop.
