The one-of-a-kind, Night Watchman JagerMace hits you out of nowhere like a ton of bricks because it's so unique in design concept that you would have never seen it coming in a million years! The mace has a solid, one-piece injection-molded polypropylene construction with a massive, 8 1/2" width spiked head that features a glass breaker at the apex. The ridged handle gives you a no-slip grip and it features an aggressive diamond-textured pattern along the shaft. The 33 1/2" overall mace also features a glass-breaker on the pommel and a weighty heft to it to break the glass.
