In the Colombian jungles there's no time for playing around. You need a machete, and the machete the jungle warriors turn to is the 24" sawback complete with a hand-guard. For hacking through the toughest trees and vines, you can't mess around with cheap imitations. This machete offers a thick, full-tang, AUS-6, all-black 18" beast of a blade that not only looks mean, but it can take a beating and not lose its edge. The injection-molded handle feels soft in your hand, but won't slip when you get sweaty. A looped cord wrist lanyard ensures it won't stray far. Includes molded black nylon, belt loop sheath. 24" overall length. 18" main blade length.

Product parameters:
