You'll be ready for anything with the M48 Double-Headed War Hammer XL to back you up, which is an impressive update of the popular M48 Double-Headed Hammer. It has a vicious 6 1/2", 2Cr13 stainless steel double-head with a black oxide coating and a satin finish on each of its faces. The hammer head features a skull crusher at its top and five penetrating points on each of its square-shaped heads. The black handle is constructed of an almost indestructible injection molded nylon with a reinforced fiberglass fill. Special grooves are designed into the handle specifically so that paracord can be wrapped around it with relative ease. The 38 1/2" overall, double-headed war hammer has a tough TPR cover to protect the head and removable nylon belt loop.
