True all purpose function for the real outdoorsman. Windlass Cobra survival knife features hand-forged, X46Cr13 steel blade, fully tempered in state-of-the-art computer controlled ovens to a Rockwell hardness of 48<sup>o</sup> so it will flex in a cut and come back for more - the way a knife should be. Nothing fancy, just tried and true function. Features a rugged hard rubber mold-over grip giving great one hand performance while absorbing shock. The grip is purposefully longer than most machetes for a second hand hold when extra chopping power is needed. The falcata design echoed here is one of the best chopping designs in history and our Cobra is no different. Experience the difference a Cobra can make! Comes with a razor sharp edge and includes leather belt sheath.
