Continuing the popular tradition the Cobra Steel line has established comes another effective historical design brought up-to-date for modern use. The jambiya always proved a great slashing design and that's captured here in 1085 high carbon, hand forged steel. The full profile tang makes it extremely strong and durable. Factory sharp, features hard rubber scales w/ extreme contours for great grip with gloves or slick hands. The handle design practically locks your grip in place for great dexterity. Includes leather belt sheath.
